Laboratory Alliance Sends Two to Lead Anemia Workshop

Two Laboratory Alliance of Central New York staff members will present a national workshop titled “Overview of Anemia” next spring in San Francisco, Cal. The American Society for Clinical Pathology (ASCP) has invited Jayne L. Healey, MD, assistant director of laboratories, and Anne Chamberlain, MT(ASCP)SH, hematology manager, to develop a program for the American Society for Clinical Pathology (ASCP) Workshops for Laboratory Professionals. Their session will be presented on Monday, April 27.

The ASCP is the leading provider of continuing medical education for practicing pathologists, pathology fellows and pathology residents. ASCP recruits experts and offers the latest information in surgical, cytological and clinical pathology and supports lifelong learning in and dedication to pathology. ASCP also oversees institutional, licensure and Maintenance of Certification requirements.

The ASCP hosts 10 meetings per year in various locations across the country. The day-long workshop will cover critical findings related to anemia and will include case studies relating to both microcytic and macrocytic anemia.

Laboratory Alliance is jointly owned by St. Joseph’s Hospital Health Center, Crouse Hospital and Community General Hospital. The company serves the three hospitals and non-hospital clients including long term care facilities and physician offices in central and upstate New York. It also serves as a reference laboratory for regional hospitals. The main laboratory is located in Electronics Business Park in Liverpool, N.Y. Laboratory Alliance employs over 430 people and performed more than eight million tests in 2007.
